Nine co-partner organizations are working together more effectively through the process of developing the RHRC

Speaker: Amy Koltz, Mediate Wisconsin
Increasing access to rental housing services is best served through coordination.

Access to rent assistance is critical.

We need one source of consistent, trusted information on rental housing.

Collaboration is hard work but ultimately more effective, especially at the systems level.

Communication with landlords is key to success.

Speaker: Emily Kenney, IMPACT Inc.
Our Solutions

Streamlined intake

A central intake process will allow clients to submit their information to multiple organizations simultaneously.

Cross-sector collaboration

Includes many facets of the rental housing system.

Engaging both tenants and landlords

Acknowledging that both are important to promote and preserve stable housing.

Speaker: Tim Ballering, Apartment Association of Southeastern Wisconsin
MKE RHRC: A PHYSICAL & VIRTUAL SPACE

A socially-distanced, trauma-informed facility to address digital equity in the community

A virtual tool for tenants and landlords to navigate resources and get support
